

Birmingham Big Art Project

“IN CONVERSATION” WITH

ANDY STREET

MAYOR OF THE WEST MIDLANDS

12 noon for 12.30pm
Thursday 26th October 2017
Hotel du Vin, Church Street,
Birmingham

Programme :

- 12 noon Reception drink
- 12.30 pm Welcome and Overview/Update on
Birmingham Big Art Project
- Glyn Pitchford, Chairman,
Birmingham Big Art Project
- 12.40 pm Patrick Burns
Political Editor, BBC will interview Andy about his first five months in the job, and what he feels are the essential characteristics
of a great city,
followed by Q & A session.
- 1.30 pm Two course lunch with wine

RESERVE YOUR PLACE NOW
@ £45 INCLUDING VAT.
PRICE INCLUDES ARRIVAL DRINK
AND GLASS OF WINE WITH LUNCH
PLUS COFFEE.

BOOK VIA EVENTBRITE AT

BUSINESS LUNCH

On 4 May 2017, Andy Street was elected to serve an initial three-year term as Mayor, working with council leaders and the chairs of the Local Enterprise Partnerships (LEPs) to deliver the West Midlands' devolution programme.

A key part of Andy's role is to act as an advocate and global ambassador for the West Midlands and to chair the West Midlands Combined Authority (WMCA).

The Mayor has specific areas of responsibility including local transport and the region's 'more and better homes' agenda.

As the devolution agenda develops so the role of the Mayor is also expected to evolve, working with combined authority colleagues to deliver the best possible outcomes for the residents and businesses of the West Midlands.

SPONSORED BY :

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/in-conversation-with-andy-street-tickets-36585417970>